BARN AND FEED LOT.

Fall pigs are unusually likely to become infested with lice. The best time to get them off is before the pigs are born by applying louse killer to the sows. Abortion in mares can sometimes be avoided by changing their breeding season from spring to fall and working them up to foaling time.

When a year is six years old it is best to fatten her unless she is a most unusual breeder and mother.

Pigs that have rickets are seldom worth raising; the bones do not properly develop. Worms sometimes are the cause of malnutrition, which induces rickets. Cull out the old and unprofitable ewes and begin to put them in a marketable condition. Get them all fat and into mutton before cold weather.

NOTICE OF COUNTY TREASURER

The books of the County Treasurer will be opened for the collection of State, County and School taxes for the Fiscal Year 1914, and Commutation Road tax for the year 1915 at the County Treasurer's office from October 15th to December 31st, 1914. After December 31st, one per cent penalty will be added; and after February 28th, seven per cent penalty will be added, till the 15th day of March, 1915, when the books will be closed.

All persons owning property in more than one township or school district, are requested to call for receipts in EACH TOWNSHIP OR SCHOOL DISTRICT, in which the property is located. On account of having so many school districts this request is very important to the taxpayers and will to a large extent eliminate extra cost and penalties.

The rate of levy is as follows:
State Taxes 6 Mills
Constitutional School Tax . . . 3 Mills
Ordinary County Purposes 3-1-2 Mills
Past Indebtedness 1 mill
Roads and Bridges 1 Mill
Public Roads 1 Mill

Total 15 1-2 Mills

NEED NEVER FEAR ATTACK FROM SEA

Our Coast is so Well Fortified That an Attack Will Probably Never Be Made.

(By Associated Press.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 28.—The United States need never fear the results of any attack from the sea, according to Representative Swager Shorley, of Kentucky, chairman of the House sub-committee on fortifications. In an authorized statement here today, Mr. Shorley declared the American coast is "so well fortified with the exception of two points, where work is now in progress, that an attack from the sea probably never will be made."

"The theory upon which the fortifications have been constructed," he continued, "is to protect important harbors from a direct attack by a hostile fleet. This has been done, except at San Pedro, Cal., where emplacements for guns are being built, and at the mouth of the Chesapeake, where land has been acquired and estimates shortly will be submitted for placing 16-inch guns along with other armament."

"Our guns are of the most modern pattern and are capable of destroying the most modern super-dreadnaughts."

RAISING GOOD MULES A PAYING INDUSTRY

Since the ravages of the horse disease in the corn belt a couple of years ago, during which it seemed to be demonstrated that the mules were less susceptible, they have gained in popularity, especially in those regions where the horse supply is short, says the Kansas Farmer.

Pure bred mares are not necessary to the production of good mules, although it follows that the better the mare the better will be the mule. It is also true that the reputation which the mule has for being a kicker is not wholly merited. This is, like some other things, a matter of growth. The old expression "As silly as a goose" is an illustration. There is no bird that rears feathers that knows as much or is as shrewd as the goose. Whether the mule will kick or not depends upon his nature, and this nature is derived

Those who speak from experience say that it costs less to mature a mule than it does a horse; that he sells for more money than does the horse and that scars and blemishes do not materially injure his market value and that he does not crowd, will not work himself to death or destroy property by running away. It would seem that he would fill a large place in the farming operations of the corn belt. It is certainly true that there is money to be made in raising good mules, and this industry shows signs of increased activity.

Newberry College Defeats Wofford

Swanton, Left Half Back for Newberry, Broke His Leg. Condition Not Serious.

Special to the Intelligencer.

COLUMBIA, Oct. 28.—After putting up a stubborn fight Wofford went down in defeat before Newberry college today at the State fair by a score of 36 to 0.

The game began at 11:30 o'clock and ended just before 2 o'clock this afternoon. Swanton, left half back for Newberry, broke his leg. He was rushed to a hospital. His condition is not serious. There were several hundred spectators present.

A Sad Death.

Last Sunday morning, Oct. 25, it was then the angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weidon, and took the sweet spirit of their beloved son, Lawrence.

Lawrence suffered some five weeks with typhoid fever, but through all of his pain he never murmured, but said: "Father not my will but Thine be done."

Lawrence was a good boy. He joined the church last August, and gave his heart to God. Since then he has been a devoted member, a great help to his Sunday school, where he now will be missed.

Oh, that God would give us more young men like Lawrence, but he was too precious to live on earth. God saw fit to call him to live in Heaven. He sang a sweet song on his dying bed. I have watched many a precious youth; now I'm coming home. Open wide thine arms of love, Lord, I'm coming home.

Lawrence was 19 years of age at his death. His body was laid to rest in Welcome grave yard last Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing friends and kindred. His funeral was conducted by Rev. H. C. Martin. He leaves a father and mother, three sisters and two brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely death.

To the bereaved we would say: "Weep not for God saw fit to take Lawrence to his sweet home beyond where no pain can ever come."

from his parents. If the mare is a kicker the mule is likely to be; but mules bred from the quiet tempered mares of the big draft breeds are not likely to be kickers except, of course, when they are started.

Every one agrees that the small mule is unfit for mule rearing. There are many cold blooded, light bodied, frail and unsound mares which are not deemed of sufficient merit to breed to stallions, and so they are used to produce mules. A first class jack will beat any second class mares from such inferior dams. There is little demand for inferior mule colts, while there is an unlimited market for those of size and quality.

The year book of the department of agriculture shows that the average price for mules is from $8 and $10 per head more than that of horses, while the experience of the big mule markets is that good mules are very scarce and will command almost any price that may be asked for them. Mule colts may be handled in bunches provided they are alone, but it will not do to pasture them with dairy cows or brood sows, and if a neighborhood is thickly well stocked with good mares a first class jack ought to prove a money maker in almost any locality in the corn belt.

Treatment For Heaves.

Heaves may be relieved by feeding grass in summer and wet out straw in winter in preference to dry, allowing no bulky feed when wet has to be done, and never working the horse soon after a meal. Give the drinking water before feeding. Allow free access to rock salt. Feed whole oats and wheat bran. Keep the bowels open. If the symptoms then persist give half an ounce of Fowler's solution of arsenic night and morning.

CITRO-LAX

Best thing for constipation, sour stomach, lax liver and sluggish bowels. Stops a sick headache almost at once. Gives a most thorough and satisfactory flushing—no pain, no nausea. Keeps your system cleaned, sweet and wholesome. B. B. Rasmusson, Escanaba, Mich., writes: "Citro-lax is a fine laxative. I want to take and do the work in a very thorough manner." Children love it. For sale by Evan's Pharmacy.
